This initiative was brought up a few years ago by the National Park Service to get kids out to the parks. Continuing, he stated that over the past three years it has become quite noticeable the importance of outdoor spaces and parks to the community and they have done wonderful things on "National Kids to Park Days" in the parks and this year it is lined up perfectly with it being on May 20th with one of their signature events, the "Gables Literacy Fest", a rather unique event and he thanked the residents who assisted, especially Sam Joseph and Commissioner Anderson. These events bring kids to an outdoor event at their biggest park areas at the Youth Center and it's about reading, and combining two different things, and it has been extremely helpful. It is their third year, and they are looking forward to it, and he invited everyone to come out. Commissioner Fernandez stated that the "Gables Family Literacy Festival" has been a success due to his team's efforts, and the entire city because they had members of staff and a lot of different departments also pitched in to make it a success. Commissioner Anderson is always there participating as well and a staple of that event and appreciates her participation. Additionally, he stated that the School and Communications Committee of the city piloted this program which was years in the making trying to get it accomplished and he is glad that the date was changed from memorial weekend so that there would be more participation, and even with

Memorial Day they had close to 1,500 people every year participating in the festival with great reviews from participants and with free books available, books for sale and an overall great family event and all who can make it on May 20th, he would highly recommend it. Commissioner Anderson indicated that she would be out there again promoting reading through prizes from Books and Books certificates for those collecting a pound of air potatoes, not the vines.

Ms Avila at a very young age was the Operator of the Year, Supervisor Zaccheo has been an integral part along with the Manager to change how they operate in Communications which changes daily and with the new CADD System has improved the response time

When the subject was apprehended, he was taken to Larkin Hospital for evaluation and upon further investigation it was found that he was the subject responsible for a hit and run accident and an ongoing homicide investigation conducted that morning by the City of Miami Police Department. Officer Contreras skills, quick thinking, decisive actions, and keen observation prevented this dangerous individual from remaining at large. The subject was charged by the City of Miami Police Department with first degree murder of an elderly female whose vehicle he stole and intentionally ran her over with. It is because of this officer's actions that night, he prevented someone else from becoming a victim. His nominator, Officer Alex Ortega was present to see him accept his award. Police Chief Hudak said that this is an example of officers working together and recognizing the great work that they all do and the reason why Officer Contreras is the “Officer of the Month for February 2023. Officer Contreras thanked the City Commission for recognizing him and acknowledged all the officers who assisted him with the apprehension of the individual.

Mr. Challenger gave the history of Robert DeKorte, a 19-year veteran police officer who tragically lost his life in the line of duty in January 21, 1972. thus, the reason for the Memorial Award. It is the City’s highest award given to police officers of the City of Coral Gables Police Department. He then went into detail regarding an incident on July 22, 2022 in which Officer Dickinson was involved and with the assistance of fellow officers captured two homicide offenders fleeing the scene of a brutal murder. It is important to note that Officer Dickinson during his career has been nominated for and received numerous awards for his actions in capturing criminals and making the city safe for its residents. At the end of Mr. Challenger’s speech, Officer Dickinson was given a standing ovation. Officer Dickenson upon accepting his award, thanked the City Commission and spoke at length of his childhood, parents, strong work ethic, career choice, supportive wife and children, staff, FOP, and fellow co-workers. While humbled to receive the award, he stated that it is always a team effort, and one he could not have achieved by himself and referenced the 2022 robbery incident for which he received the Officer of the Month award. He believes that reading Robert DeKorte book is a good read, which chronicles those officers who gave their life for the city and one that should be read by all new hires in the Police Department.

Police Chief Hudak noted that they always highlight the Telecommunication Operators in stressing the importance of what they do, but additionally, they would not function if it were not for some of the other employees like Anna working in the Special Investigative section where she is entrusted with high level confidential information. She is a mother, grandmother who has an effervescent personality all the time and has never seen her, not smiling, even when she covers for his Administrative Assistant, a task she dreads. She is a testament to what a City of Coral Gables employee is within the department, and they are proud of her every day. She along with her assistant Karen deal with all the final Crime Task Force monies under the direction of Sergeant Lemon and Major Pedroso who oversees everyone, and they are proud of her. Ms. Sierra stated that she loves her colleagues and has never worked anywhere where she feels like family and it is an honor to receive the award, but more so to work for the city and thanked everyone.
