

RAHUL KOTHARI

Rahul Kothari leads Ironview's alternative investment efforts, and sits on the firm's Investment Committee. He joined the firm via the Carlyle Group where he served as a Vice President in the US Buyouts Group and most recently as the Vice President of Mergers & Acquisitions for one of Carlyle's largest portfolio companies, Sequa Corporation. Prior to this, Rahul held various roles in late-stage private equity at the Aurora Capital Group, investment banking at Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette (now Credit Suisse), consulting at Bain & Company and held leadership positions at various entrepreneurial ventures. At the Carlyle Group and the Aurora Capital Group Mr. Kothari focused on investing in the industrial sector and was responsible for all aspects of investment generation, review and execution and was actively involved in directing portfolio company strategy and operations. At DLJ Mr. Kothari executed high yield bond and equity financings and mergers and acquisitions across a variety of industries. At Bain & Company Mr. Kothari worked alongside client management teams to solve complex and critical corporate challenges.

Rahul earned an MBA from the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania and a BS in Biochemistry and an Honors BA from the University of Western Ontario. He currently serves on the Boards of the Children's Museum of the Arts in New York as well as the Miami Children's Museum.

Office: (212) 603-9450 Cell: (310) 692-5952 rkothari@ironview.com

