In February of 1989, the “Country Club of Coral Gables Historic District” was listed in the Coral Gables Register of Historic Places. It is comprised primarily of residences located along North Greenway Drive, South Greenway Drive, and Granada Boulevard. These residences were some of the finest in the City and include designs of some of the finest pioneering architects of Coral Gables. The majority of the designs reflect the predominant Mediterranean Revival architecture that was the standard for the City of Coral Gables. Among the homes listed within the district were residences that were considered non-contributing properties. These structures were deemed as such for a varied of reasons including not qualifying due to age, and because of alterations that had occurred to the original buildings that were not sympathetic.

The residence located at 717 North Greenway Drive is a contributing resource within the "Country Club of Coral Gables Historic District." Built in 1927, the home was originally designed by architect H. B. Taylor. The original resident of this property was Achille Renuart, president of Renuart Realty Company.

The applicant is requesting Ad Valorem Tax Relief for the renovation of the historic residence and auxiliary structure, the construction of a two-story addition and alterations to the residence, alterations to the auxiliary structure, and sitework. The information contained within this staff report reflects all the improvements to the property (exterior, interior and site improvements,) as reflected in the Certificate of Appropriateness Case File COA (SP) 2019-014. Only portions of the proposed work will actually apply to the tax exemption.
