

Biography:

Betty Horwitz attended Universidad Iberoamericana, Mexico City, graduating in 1979 with a BA in Social Sciences with a major in Sociology. In 2001, she received a Masters of Arts and Liberal Studies from the MALS program, and earned a PH. D. in International Studies in May, 2007, both from the University of Miami. In March, 2010, Anthem press published her book The Transformation of the Organization of American States; A Multilateral Framework for Regional Governance. She participated in 2014 in Bruce M. Bagley and Magdalena Defort eds. La Hegemonía Norteamericana en Declive? El desafío del ALBA y la nueva integración latinoamericana del siglo XXI, published by Universidad ICESI with the chapter “Alba en el Contexto Interamericano.” In 2015 in Bruce M. Bagley and Jonathan Rosen eds. Drug Trafficking, Organized Crime, and Violence in the Americas Today published by University Press of Florida, with the chapter: “The Role of the Inter-American Drug Abuse Control Commission (CICAD): Confronting the Problem of Illegal Drugs in the Americas.” In 2015 in Marten W. Brien and Jonathan D. Rosen eds. New Approaches to Drug Policies: A Time for Change published by Palgrave with the chapter “A Change in the Approach to the Drug Problem in the Americas.” And in 2015 in Roberto Zepeda and Jonathan D. Rosen eds. Cooperation and Drug Policies in the Americas: Trends in the twenty First Century published by Lexington with the chapter “Cooperation, Security, and the Drug Phenomenon in the Inter-American Context.” In 2016, together with Bruce M. Bagley, Routledge, Taylor and Francis Group published her book Latin America and the Caribbean in the Global Context: Why Care about the Americas?