2. Development Review Projects
 - a. Director Kinney advised the PAB that there were no development projects scheduled for review for this month.
 - b. A board member asked Director Kinney where the PAB is in the development review process. What stage of the development review process does the PAB get involved. Director Kinney stated that the PAB is not part of the regulatory process, but the PAB has asked Director Kinney to bring to the PAB any development project that impacts parking.

Then it is withing the PAB purview to make recommendations about parking for the project.

- c. The PAB discussed the 700 Valencia development and other projects that are considering bump-outs that would eliminate some on-street parking. The PAB continues to recommend the preservation of on-street parking.
- d. Director Kinney said he would invite the City Planner, Jennifer Garcia, to a future PAB meeting to discuss Development Projects.

3. PAB Meeting Schedule

- a. Director Kinney explained that historically the PAB met at 8:30 in morning on a specific day. The PAB chose to move the meeting to Wednesday evening on the fourth Wednesday of the month, which was never an issue until we moved the meetings to the new facility (the new Public Service Building Community Room. Now there are two different board meetings that are going to happen on the fourth Wednesday of the month in that building. Since we moved to their time we need to figure out when we want to meet. It can be in the evenings or in the mornings, it is up to the Board. It just can't be at the same time as the other board meetings. There is a conflict with the Sustainability Board.
- b. On a motion from board member Valdes and seconded by board member Famadas the PAB approved moving the PAB meetings to the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 5:30 PM.

6. Carnival on the Mile

- b. The event promoters sent a letter to the City Manager asking for the parking fees again be waived for this year's event.
- c. Director Kinney spoke with the City Manager and the decision was made not to waive this year's parking fees, and that we sent an invoice for the 137 parking spaces that will be off-line due to the event.

- d. In addition, the Director explained that our cost for the event rises significantly because we have to increasing staffing in the facilities with both garage staff and security, as well as provide additional street cleaning staff through Block-by-Block (our Safe & Clean street maintenance vendor).
